

Fulham Acquires Nualight, Expanding Global Leadership in Specialty Lighting

Hawthorne, CA – October 28th, 2025 – Fulham Co., Inc., a leading global manufacturer of lighting components and electronics, today announced the acquisition of Nualight, a top European provider of high-performance refrigeration lighting solutions for grocery and display case applications.

The acquisition expands Fulham’s global footprint and enhances its engineering, manufacturing, and sales capabilities across North America, Europe, and Asia. Both companies will continue to operate independently while leveraging shared technologies, customer relationships, and best practices to accelerate growth and innovation.

“The combined engineering strength and global reach of Fulham and Nualight’s twenty-year experience create meaningful advantages for our customers,” said Antony Corrie, CEO of Fulham. “Together, we’ll bring innovative, reliable, and sustainable lighting solutions to market faster than ever before.”

Andrew Cronin, CEO of Nualight, added, “Joining Fulham’s global organization will help us expand our product portfolio and deliver advanced refrigeration and display lighting solutions more efficiently to customers around the world.”

For more information about the Fulham–Nualight partnership, please contact your existing Fulham or Nualight representative.

About Fulham

Fulham Co., Inc. is a global manufacturer and supplier of innovative lighting components and electronics for commercial, industrial, and specialty applications. Key product areas include:

- Low-temperature power and lighting for food and medical storage
- Emergency and exit solutions meeting international safety codes
- Germicidal UV technologies for air, surface, and water purification
- Horticultural lighting systems designed to maximize crop yield

Fulham also provides custom OEM solutions tailored to customer needs. Learn more at fulham.com.